Continental Pride on the Line Ahead of Triple Title Showdowns

07 May 2025

Johannesburg, South Africa – The official weigh-ins for EFC 123: Africa’s Best vs Brazil are complete, setting the stage for a monumental night of international competition tomorrow at the World Sports Betting Arena in Johannesburg. With three EFC titles on the line and a stacked 12-fight card, the atmosphere is charged with anticipation.

Light Heavyweight Championship Main Event

In the main event, reigning champion JC Lamprecht of South Africa faces Brazil’s Édson “The Gladiator” Silva, who stepped in on short notice to challenge for the light heavyweight crown. Both fighters made championship weight, making the bout official. Lamprecht enters with a flawless record since 2016, while Silva brings danger and momentum from Brazil’s renowned Jungle Fight promotion.

Women’s Flyweight Championship Co-Main Event

The co-main event features the return of former champion Amanda “Mad Dog” Lino, who will clash with Brazil’s Mariana Salles for the vacant women’s flyweight belt. Both athletes successfully made weight and appear ready for war. With Lino’s explosive finishes and Salles’

Pitbull Brothers pedigree, this could be one of the most memorable women's bouts in EFC history.

Men's Flyweight Championship Bout

Opening the trio of title fights is a showdown between South Africa's Willie van Rooyen and Brazil's Kleberson Sousa. Both men hit their mark at the scales. This clash promises speed, precision, and relentless pressure as each athlete fights for their first EFC championship.
