

FIGHT WEEK ARRIVES FOR EFC 134

LINO AND CHUKWU SET FOR FIRST OFFICIAL FACE-OFF AS EFC 134 COUNTDOWN ENTERS FINAL DAYS

Johannesburg, South Africa – 31 May 2026

Fight week has officially arrived for EFC 134 as athletes enter the final stages of preparation ahead of one of the most anticipated events of the year on June 4 at the World Sports Betting EFC Arena in Johannesburg.

Headlining the event, reigning women's flyweight champion Amanda “Mad Dog” Lino will defend her title against reigning EFC bantamweight champion Juliet Chukwu of Nigeria in a championship clash carrying major implications for the future of women's MMA in Africa.

With Chukwu now in South Africa, the two champions are expected to come face-to-face for the first time during the official EFC 134 Media Day on Monday, June 1 at The Capital on Park in Sandton.

The event marks the beginning of a packed fight week schedule that will see athletes complete media obligations, official weigh-ins, and final preparations before entering the Hexagon on Thursday night.

The EFC 134 main card also features a pivotal flyweight showdown between Sisa Jungula and Thapelo “The Phenomenal One” Seabi, while Vince Bembe faces rising lightweight Khanyo Maqam. Godfrey “Feralspunk” Mkhwanazi meets William “Ragnar” Lekana, and Tebatso “The Glory of Torture” Molele takes on Zimbabwe's Lecture “The Mafia” Gumbi.

The preliminary card streams live globally on Discover Sport and showcases emerging talent from across South Africa and the African continent, including Jason Mackay, Vēja Hinda, Alex Suzuki, Bruce Mayasi, Alex Kapinga, Nasiphi Vellum, Stefan Diedericks, and Thembani Mhlanga.

Fans can also follow the latest developments through EFC Engaged, with the newest episode featuring Juliet Chukwu's arrival in South Africa, alongside appearances from Amanda Lino, Tebatso Molele, Lecture Gumbi, and Godfrey Mkhwanazi.
