Allen and Bembe Ready For War

5 November 2025

Johannesburg, South Africa - The stage is set for EFC 129: Allen vs Bembe, taking place tomorrow, Thursday 6 November, live from the World Sports Betting Arena at the EFC Performance Institute, Johannesburg.

Fight week reached fever pitch at today's official weigh-in, where intense stare-downs, drama, and last-minute changes made for a memorable event.

The highly anticipated co-main event between Ndidi Alonu and Ziko Makengele has been cancelled. Alonu was diagnosed with a thumb infection and was not cleared to compete by the EFC medical team. Despite efforts to secure a short-notice replacement, no athlete was able or willing to step in to face Ziko, forcing the bout to be removed from the card.

EFC Vice President of Talent Graeme Cartmell, speaking with Simon Stephens, confirmed the medical decision, saying: "We lost the welterweight fight unfortunately, the doctor said no. We're all here to see Boyd and Vince, and I cannot wait. We're on the precipice of Fight of the Year." Cartmell also predicted the heavyweights won't go past the first round and called the featherweight division "on fire" heading into fight night.

Boyd Allen and Vince Bembe both made weight, with Allen receiving a huge cheer from the crowd as he stepped onto the scale. The two shook hands before locking eyes in a composed yet charged moment.

Bembe confidently declared, "Tomorrow night I will be the new legend." Allen replied, "I'm super excited to be back and looking forward to performing at my highest level. Every fight is a risky fight, but he's not at my level. I will finish Vince Bembe."
